

With the no call list in place I don't cringe when the phone rings. I know that whomever is calling is someone that i want to talk to, not just another telemarketer. If I would like a service I will call them. Please don't threaten our peace - let us keep the no call list.